

Medical Mycology Course in West China

Prof. RAN Yu-ping, West China Hospital, Sichuan University, West China, organized a National Medical Mycology Education Course authorized by the Chinese Medical Association, entitled "Fungus Infectious Diseases: Advances in Clinical and Basic Research". The course was present in Chengdu City, Sichuan province (West China) from 20-30 April, 2006

Fifty clinical doctors, lab technicians and graduate students from all over China were registered for this 10-day course. The opening 4 days of clinical lectures attracted over 80 attendees. Invited lecturers included:

Glenn S. Bulmer, VP of ISHAM (Beijing and Manila);

HAO Fei, director of the Department of Dermatology, Southwest China Hospital, and the Third Military Medical University, Chongqing, China;

LI Chun-yang, director of the Department of Dermatology, Qilu Hospital of Shandong University, China;

LI Rou-yu, director of the Department of Dermatology, Peking (Beijing) First University Hospital, China;

LUO Han-chao, Department of Dermatology, West China Hospital, Sichuan University, China;

RAN Yu-ping, Department of Dermatology, West China hospital, Sichuan University, China;

WEN Hai, director of the Department of Dermatology, Changzheng Hospital and the Second Military Medical University, Shanghai, China;

YE Qing-yi, Department of Dermatology, Southwest China Hospital and the Third Military Medical University, Chongqing, China.

Some of the students attending the Chengdu Course.